

U. S. WILL POLICE HAITI WITH FORCE LIKE THAT USED IN PHILIPPINES

Will Enlist Natives Into a Constabulary, Putting Experienced American Non-Coms From the Islands Over Them As Officers

ULTIMATUM TO BE MET
QUICKLY, CAPITAL BELIEF

Natives Bitterly Resent Having To Submit To Semi-Vassalage But Recognize They Cannot Oppose American Intervention

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
WASHINGTON, August 28.—The experience gained in the Philippines by the United States is to be put into practice in the Republic of Haiti in the plan for policing that Republic, provided the Haitian senate ratifies the proposed treaty with the United States which will turn over to the United States for a period of ten years the handling of the enforcement of order and the shaping of the Haitian finances.

The Haitian plan will be to organize a police force from amongst the Haitians along the lines of the Philippine Constabulary, the force to be officered by Americans.

All Use Experienced Men
To secure competent officers, the war department will be asked to furnish men selected from non-commissioned officers who have had experience with the Philippine Constabulary. To these non-coms commissions in the Haitian Constabulary will be issued and the work of whipping the new police force into shape will devolve upon them.

No intimation as to the attitude of the Haitian senate in the matter of the proposed treaty has reached Washington through any official source, but unofficial intimations are that while the Haitians bitterly resent the idea of having to submit to semi-vassalage for a period of years, it is recognized that there can be no successful opposition to the United States, which appears determined upon putting its plan into operation.

Haiti May Accept Soon
The United States has given the Haitian senate until September 17, to act upon the treaty proposal, but it is probable that the Haitians will agree to bring the treaty into force before the time limit has expired.

Rear Admiral Caperton reports that everything is quiet in the Republic.

FUEL SHIP JUPITER HUNTS LOST STEAMER

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
WASHINGTON, August 28.—Acting on the belief that there is a possibility the United Fruit Company steamer Marowine may not have foundered, but is floundering about in the Gulf of Mexico unable to make port because of badly damaged machinery, Secretary Daniels yesterday ordered the fuel ship Jupiter of the auxiliary division to Alacran Reef, Gulf of Mexico, from Vera Cruz. The Marowine is thirteen days overdue at its destination in British Honduras and it is generally believed that she foundered in the gale which swept the Gulf coast.

CHICAGO, August 28.—The police department has been asked to furnish a guard of 100 officers in plain clothes at the coliseum, where the Friends of Peace, an organization said to be German in its objects and sympathies, has opened a convention. Violence due to the feeling over the war is feared, it is said, by officials of the Friends of Peace, and led to the request for police officers.

Italians Take Pass 8500 Feet Up In the Alps

Austrians Make Strong Resistance But Finally Are Shelled Out of Positions

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
ROME, August 28.—Lago di Passo, 8500 feet up in the Alps, has fallen to the Italians after a desperate battle, says an official report issued by the war office here yesterday. The Austrians made a strong resistance and the pass was not taken until after many shells had been thrown on the Austrian positions. The pass was won last Wednesday.

Men have been bombarded Riva, an Austrian town northwest of Verona and just across the border. Many bombs were hurled on the fortifications there and the machines returned unscathed.

The official report says good progress has been made on the (also plateau with the result that the Italian holdings have been much strengthened.

FIGHTING ON TYROLESE MOUNTAIN PEAKS

A Hungarian officer, describing the fighting on the Tyrolean mountain peaks, a mile above sea level, states that the most difficult problem for the staff is to maintain the supply of food to the troops. On account of the high altitude and the continuous physical strain, they need good supplies and plenty of them.

The officer pays a tribute to the work of the Red Cross. "Our wounded have to be carried down in stretchers to the ends of sticks, and it takes a dozen men to carry one down," he remarks.

Scout duty is particularly dangerous, except for skilled Alpinists, and many of these never return. Touching on the remarkable echoes thrown back by the mountain peaks, the officer says: "The roar of the guns is heard twice, thrice, or perhaps a dozen times, the echo throwing the sound back and forth and transforming a single report into a fusillade. Many of our men have been rendered unconscious or even driven mad by the fearful noise of the guns in the rarified atmosphere of these high altitudes."

The same officer in another letter described an attack by the Italians on the positions held by his troops. "I was after nine o'clock in the evening when the Italian infantry began to climb the mountain and storm the positions. We lay down behind the rock and poured a fusillade of fire upon them as they came up in three lines. That was easy. But some terrible and trying moments for our troops came after this. The Italians, having been reinforced by another brigade, came in such force and with such determination that the hot barrels of our rifle could do no more. A fourth brigade was then seen in reserve trotting up behind."

"They surprised the advanced positions—a whole company fell into their hands, and they came on against the heavy fire of our infantry and artillery so successfully and unrelentingly that even their most gallant adversaries, Major Turinija, remarked: 'Honor and respect to those Italians; they behaved beautifully. I would not have expected anything else.'"

"They reached our rocky covers to within six yards. Our machine gun and grenades literally swept them off the slopes, yet more took their places shouting 'Corraggio!' and 'Evviva!'"

"Again our rifles failed us. They came over the rocks in front, but there was no bayonet work, for our men were retreating to another height where the reserves were ready to repulse any further advance."

Wife and Three Children of General Pershing Lose Lives In Fire At Presidio

They Are Trapped In Their Apartments By Gas and Smoke and Suffocate

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—Mrs. Frances Warren Pershing, wife of Brig.-Gen. John J. Pershing, U. S. A., and three of their four children met death in their quarters at the Presidio late Thursday night. They were suffocated by the explosion of a lamp which filled their apartments with gas and smoke.

It was declared yesterday by the chief of the local fire department that had the soldier firemen not been so long in reporting the disaster, the lives of all might have been saved. As it was, when men of the city department reached the Presidio it was too late to save the victims. Their burned bodies were rescued in the morning.

With Mrs. Pershing perished her three daughters, Helen, Anne and Margaret. Warren, her young son, escaped with Mrs. Boswell, a relative, and her two children.

The Pershings were well known in Honolulu, having passed through the city several times en route to and from the Philippines, where the general has had several commands.

Those who knew the Pershing family were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Pershing and her children. The grief went deeper because of the fact that the father of Mrs. Pershing, Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, the father of Mrs. Pershing, has many friends in the Islands. Mrs. Pershing was his only daughter.

Brigadier General Pershing is now stationed on the Mexican border at El Paso, in command of the Eighth Brigade. Recently it was reported that Brigadier General Pershing might be stationed at Honolulu, but the Mexican crisis may have prevented this.

CONSTITUTION LIES IN ITS PREAMBLE

Former Governor Adams So Declares With Reference To Woman's Suffrage

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
BOSTON, August 28.—Former Governor Alva Adams of Colorado, addressing a suffrage meeting here last night, characterized the preamble of the Constitution, which declares that "We, the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution," to be "lies and delusions" insofar as those States are concerned which have not yet extended the franchise to women.

Governor Capper of Kansas, another of the speakers, advocated the granting of suffrage to the women of the United States through a constitutional amendment.

GENERAL STRIKE SEEMS CERTAIN

Welsh Coal Miners Again Restive And Government May Invoke Munitions Act

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
LONDON, August 28.—While the Welsh coal miners have not yet stopped work, a general strike appears to be imminent.

The miners claim that while they have shown their willingness to make sacrifices for the welfare of the Empire, as requested of them by Minister of Munitions Lloyd-George, the mine owners are not carrying out the minister's suggestions to them in the spirit of the agreement.

The government may find it necessary to invoke the munitions act under which laborers may be punished for refusing to work. Furthermore, the action of the miners has revived talk of conscription as a means of forcing the able-bodied men to respond to England's need not only for men but for war material.

INQUIRY STARTED TO FIX BLAME FOR OIL TANK BLAST

Ralph R. Harrub, Third Victim of Explosion, Dies From Burns And Injuries

HEAD OF UTILITIES BODY
BEGINS AN INVESTIGATION

Mysterious Origin of Accident
Not Due To Short Circuit of Wires

Ralph R. Harrub, the third victim of Thursday's explosion of a tank of distillate at the Standard Oil Company's plant at Twilio, died at Queen's Hospital at half past one o'clock yesterday afternoon. This brings the death toll to three.

Services For Schieber
The funeral of Harrub will take place at half past three o'clock this afternoon from Williams' undertaking parlors, the interment being at Nuuanu cemetery. The Rev. John W. Wadman will conduct the funeral services.

The funeral services for Anton Schieber, another of the victims, probably will be held at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Masonic Temple. He is survived by a widow and child living at 3 Onua Place. His father who lives on Kauai, has been notified of his son's death, and is expected to arrive in Honolulu tomorrow morning.

The funeral services probably will be conducted by Hawaiian Lodge No. 21 of Masons and the interment will be in the Nuuanu cemetery. Arrangements for the funeral of Carl Eichel, the third victim has not been made. He is survived by a widow, who, a present is living at the Seaside Hotel.

The inquiry on the three bodies will be held next Tuesday afternoon at half past two o'clock.

Investigation Is Begun
Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works and chairman of the public utilities commission, has started an investigation into the circumstances surrounding Thursday's disaster. From his investigations Mr. Forbes will arrange data for use by the public utility commission, one of the victims, Harrub, having been an employee of the Hawaiian Electric Company. The investigation will be of a double nature as Forbes, as superintendent of public works, has the control of all explosives in the territory.

The cause of the accident still remains a mystery as far as the Standard Oil Company is concerned. Augustus S. Prescott, district sales manager of the company, stated yesterday that those in charge of the local office of the company would make a thorough investigation.

Doubts Spark Story
James F. Fenwick, assistant manager of the Hawaiian Electric Company, said yesterday that the accident was in no way connected with the lighting or power system of the Standard Oil Company, for which the electric company furnished the current. The fire-farm apparatus was not, he said, connected up by the Hawaiian Electric Company, the apparatus being supplied with dry batteries owned and operated by the Standard Oil Company. He did not see how a spark possibly could have caused the explosion, as all wires are in conduits, making a short circuit impossible.

The services of the Hawaiian Electric Company were requisitioned because the wiring system which operated the fire-farm apparatus needed adjustment.

Mounted Tank to Death
Mr. Fenwick further stated that just before the accident the three men who lost their lives, and a helper of Harrub, descended from the tank, their work being finished, to see that all explosives material was stored in a waiting automobile. For some inexplicable reason the three men went back to the top of the tank and there met their death. The helper, fortunately, remained below.

FRESH SUCCESSSES GAINED BY FRENCH

Several Trenches In Vosges Are Wrested From Germans And Occupied

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

PARIS, August 28.—Fresh successes attended the French offensive in the Vosges yesterday, several trenches being wrested from the Germans and occupied.

German positions back of the trenches were also subjected to a heavy bombardment by the French air fleet.

Last Thursday German aviators bombarded St. Haussant and Essey stations and a gas factory at Dornach, on the north Scottish coast. In retaliation an air raid was made by the Allies on Friday on a power plant at Muhlheim, which was bombarded and the aviators returned unharmed.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS INCREASE

Collections During Fiscal Year Just Closed $35,000,000 More Than For 1914

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
WASHINGTON, August 28.—A record has been established in the internal revenue receipts for the United States in the fiscal year of 1915, just concluded, according to a partial report for the year by the revenue commission, which was made public yesterday. It is shown that aggregate receipts for the year, including income and corporation taxes, total $415,000,000.

The total for 1914 was $380,000,000. This sum included $71,380,156 in personal and corporation taxes. According to these figures, the 1915 increase is $35,000,000.

In view of business conditions and the war there is considerable speculation over the cause of the big increase in receipts. It is expected that the increase may be found due to the "war" tax voted by the last congress to stave off the huge threatened deficit.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ENDORSE WILSON

National Education Association Approves of President's European and Mexican Policies

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.—The National Education Association, in session here, yesterday went on record as favoring the principles of President Wilson in his dealings with the European and Mexican situations.

The members in resolutions deplored war and with a view to counteracting sentiment for resorting to force instead of the adoption of a course based on arbitration, voted to urge the appointment of educational attaches in the army and navy.

The teachers are winding up their convention, which has been attended by many of prominence in the educational field.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR REASSURES LANSING

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
WASHINGTON, August 27.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, today called upon Secretary of State Lansing and notified him that Germany is preparing to give the United States "full satisfaction" for the sinking of the Arabic.

It is expected that Germany will go further than merely a disavowal of authorization for the sinking, in case the facts are established that the German submarine torpedoed the White Star liner without giving warning.

The German government's reiterated assurances concerning the Arabic has reassured the American administration on the whole subject of the submarine campaign. It is expected that negotiations to settle the Lusitania incident will follow the Arabic matter.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
PHILADELPHIA, August 28.—The Russian steamer Voronez will sail from Wilmington, Delaware, today with a cargo of 2,000,000 pounds of smokeless powder for the Russian army. Russian military officers, who have an intended the manufacture of the powder, have directed the loading of the steamer.

GREAT NORTHERN TO SELL GIANT LINER MINNESOTA

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
SEATTLE, August 27.—The Great Northern Steamship Company is preparing to sell the giant liner Minnesota, largest steamship on the Pacific and discontinue its Transpacific service.

The Minnesota has proved an unprofitable investment. Both it and its sister ship, the Dakota, which was wrecked several years ago, lost money heavily for the owners.

The Minnesota is now at Vladivostok. On its return it will load cargo and go to England around the Horn. The steamer is too large to go through the canal. It is valued at $2,000,000.

CZAR RAISING A NEW ARMY OF 2,000,000 MEN FOR INVASION

Russian Minister Admits Fate of Muscovite Campaign Against Austria and Germany Has Been Decided For This Year

DRIVE PLANNED THEREFOR TO TAKE PLACE IN SPRING

Nicholas Receives Joint Telegram From French War Heads Expressing Confidence In Future And He Replies In Similar Vein

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
LONDON, August 28.—Acknowledging that the fate of the Russian campaign against Austria and Germany has been decided so far as this year is concerned, General Polivanoff, a member of the Russian ministry, announces that Russia is now turning her attention to the raising of a fresh army of two million men, which will be ready to take the field against the Teutons in the spring.

In the meanwhile, Russia will remain on the defensive, having faith in the army in the field to prevent any serious inroads into Russia proper by the Austro-Germans.

Russia Operates With Allies
Replying to a suggestion that there has been a difference of opinion between the commanders-in-chief of the Allies respecting the strategy of the war, Minister Sazonoff declares that the report is wholly without foundation. The Russian commander-in-chief has never questioned the wisdom of the policy of the French and British in the carrying on of their share of the war, but has operated with them.

Yesterday a joint telegram from Paris, signed by President Poincaré, Minister of War Millerand and General Joffre, was received by Czar Nicholas. The French leaders in their message expressed entire confidence in the future and praised the heroic army of Russia for the sacrifices it has made in the face of odds.

Czar Replies to Greetings
The Czar in his reply expressed an equal confidence in the final outcome of the war, stating that Russia was standing firm, trusting implicitly in the fact that the right must win.

These telegrams were exchanged after official confirmation had been given to the reports that the Germans had secured full possession of the Brest-Litovsk line and had resumed a general offensive, with the Russians drawing back. Grodno, the fortress on the Bielestok-Vilna railroad, is the only position now remaining in Russian possession along the Polish line, and against it the Germans are pushing a strong advance, with heavy artillery.

In the Baltic Provinces the Germans are pressing the Russians south-east of Mitau and east of Kovno, attempting to break through and reach the main railroad to Petrograd.

Petrograd for Objective
It is thought now that this will develop into the main German movement on the east, while it is further believed that von Hindenburg will have his force strengthened in order that he may make another drive and a new attempt to intercept and cut off a portion of the retreating Russian army.

It is partially confirmed that the Russians have prepared a new line, upon which they are falling. This has been hastily fortified in the expectation that the retreating troops will be able to hold this ground until preparations are completed for a fresh offensive against the invaders.
